Had it not been for my big sister, many childhood memories would not have been made. As I tagged along with Cookie, I was treated to parks, picnics, zoo excursions. Wherever she took her kids, I got to go as well! As I grew into adulthood Cookie became my confidant, my bff. At one point we had a standing date every Sunday, breakfast and the movies. Cookie helped me raise my girls, Raven and Candace. At times I almost felt jealous because when I had to work my girls learned to depend on her. She never met a stranger. No matter where we went she would strike up a conversation with anyone. I'll miss our daily talks the most....Rest in Peace, Big Sistah, job well done

I have truly lost a dear friend My memories- so many- Cookie taught me everything how to clean, cut up and cook greens, how to put up curtains the list goes on. Cookie would wake me up every morning to go walking banging on my window yelling "come on out you are not going to stay in there and be fat" not to mention how she took my daughter under her wings and taught her so many life lessons. I missed her so much when she moved off the block but I will never forget the love we had for each other. My true friend indeed! My prayers are with you family
